

The public city library manages categories, books, registered members and loans. Each book belongs to exactly one category (for example Fiction, Saggistica or Scienza) and is identified by its ISBN along with a title and an author. Each member has a unique account with a full name, an email address and an enrolment date.

A loan records which member borrowed which book, together with the loan date and a due date. When a book is returned after its due date, a fine is applied to that loan; the fine has an amount and, once paid, a payment date. A fine depends on its loan, and a loan depends on both a member and a book.
